Board Split On Attorney For Central

Council Majority Refuse to Accept Advice of Atty.
Baker

Announce Determination to Appoint Attorney Who Will Agree

If you don't like the advice your attorney, gives you, hire another one who will tell you the things you would like to hear. Step on the gas and get there!

That seemed to be the mood of the council majority at their special meeting Tuesday afternoon when the Central Avenue Improvement project was taken up for consideration. The differences which developed at once resulted in a three to two division, with Councilman Blakeslee, the newly appointed member, lining up with Councilmen Isaacs and Belohlavek. Mayor Thayer and Councilman Myers constituted the minority.

As the outcome, Frederick Baker is no longer special counsel on the Central Avenue project. He remains on the job as city attorney, a post which he has held for ten years without involving the city in litigation.

Issuance of immediate possession bonds for condemnation proceedings in the opening and widening of Central Avenue was the point at issue. Mr. Baker said he would not advise them because of the danger of the whole project being tied up in litigation. This was his own judgment and also that of his associate counsel, Arthur Ellis, one of the leading attorneys in the state on public improvement proceedings. Mr. Baker also said that Everett Mattoon, author of the Mattoon Act, also advises against the use of the immediate possession bonds at the present time.

The matter was brought to a head by motion of Councilman Myers. Soon after the death of Col. Hall caused a vacancy on the board, the council adopted a resolution to the effect that the proceedings remain in "status quo" until the vacancy was filled. Councilman Myers moved that that resolution be rescinded and that the project be resumed under the contract of last December which provided for the employment of Mr. Baker as special counsel and H. S. Gierlich as special engineer. No other councilman being willing to second it, Mayor Thayer put the question on his own second. Roll call brought out the three to two division, indicating the unwillingness of the majority to continue with the old arrangement.

"I move the Central Avenue project be taken out of status quo," said Councilman Belohlavek. This was adopted by the same vote and went into the minutes as rescinding the "status quo" resolution.

Then followed a discussion in which Councilman Isaacs admitted that he had in mind another attorney to take the helm as special counsel on Central Avenue. The majority having indicated their purpose, Attorney Baker submitted a form of resolution by which the council accepted his resignation as special counsel, and this was adopted by the same three to two vote.

Councilman Belohlavek then wanted to know when it would be in order to fill the vacancy. Mr. Baker said they could do it at once if they wished. Mr. Belohlavek wanted him to prepare the necessary resolution, but Mr. Baker said that would not be in order, and he could not do it anyway because he did not know the terms upon which his successor would be employed.

Mayor Thayer then inquired if anyone knew the terms upon which it was proposed to employ Attorney Wygant (the first time the name of the proposed appointee was mentioned in open meeting.) There being no answer, the mayor asked:

"Mr. Isaacs, do you know the terms on which Mr. Wygant will take the position?" To which Mr. Isaacs answered "No."

"Mr. Belohlavek, do you know?" asked the mayor. "No," answered Mr. Belohlavek.

"Mr. Blakeslee, do you know?" asked the mayor. "No," was the answer.

"Oh, but Mr. Wygant told us the price would be right," explained Mr. Belohlavek, to which

College Man to Give Impressions Gained in Travel

On Wednesday evening next, Prof. Raymond C. Brooks of Pomona College will speak at the Congregational Church on "Impressions of Europe." During the past year Dr. Brooks was away on his sabbatical leave, and he spent a good portion of it in Europe. He was a member of the "Eddy Seminar" group, who visited most of the leading capitals of the continent. This gave him contacts with many leaders and opened doors of opportunity not usually available to travelers. The speaker will address the church at its monthly family dinner and because of the rare opportunity the members are inviting the people of Sierra Madre to come also. The dinner is served at 6:30.

Gas Engine Proposal Is Given City

Officials Taken on Tour of Pumping Plants for Inspection

Substantial Savings in Cost of Pumping Water Are Claimed

Sierra Madre city officials were given a short course of instruction in gas engine practice for pumping plants Monday afternoon. The course involved a visit to the Sierra Madre water plant for inspection of the present installation where the pumping is done with electric power, and a visit to the Monrovia city plant where gas engines are used.

City officials taking part in the conference were Mayor W. F. Thayer, Jr., Councilmen Belohlavek, Blakeslee, Isaacs and Myers, Engineer O. A. Gierlich and Water Superintendent J. E. Carpenter. They were accompanied by Peter MacLaren, engineer for the Western Enterprise Gas Company, and D. M. Ferry, gas engine expert for the Southern Counties Gas Company.

It is the contention of the gas engine men that the city can effect great economies in lifting water out of the ground and in boosting it to the reservoirs in the upper levels of the city by means of gas engines. It was also pointed out that, regardless of the power used, there is a sad lack of balance in the pumping equipment now in use. The booster equipment is considerably in excess of the pumping equipment to raise water to the surface of the ground.

After hearing the merits of gas for power expounded the city officials expressed a willingness to entertain a definite proposition for gas engine installation, with necessary alterations at the pumping plant. This the gas men agreed to furnish in writing. When this is done a comparative study will be made with the electrical equipment now in use, together with possible changes for more economical pumping by electric power.

Election Result Already Settled In Public Mind

Near approach of election day sees an exciting campaign not nearly so much in doubt as had been forecast in its early stages. Preliminary polls, betting odds and all the other indications point to the same result. Unless Herbert Hoover is elected president by a landslide, the country will contain an unprecedented number of false prophets.

Over-confidence remains a danger in the situation. But the intense interest on both sides will probably result in a huge vote total. In this part of California the election is unique in that the presidential contest is the only one receiving much attention. That leaves the voters ample time to study those 23 propositions and to mark their ballots carefully.

The next meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary will be held November 8th. If anyone knowing a World War veteran in this community who is ill, will give his or her name to the president, Mrs. Lillian E. Wheeler, 409 Alta Vista Drive, phone Red 218, she will appreciate it.

Police Give Big Program Here Tonight

Detective Methods to Be Told
By Noted Police
Experts

Motion Pictures and Famous
Quartet Also to Appear
On Program

Although it is a free show, with the public cordially invited, the annual Police Night entertainment announced for this evening promises to be one of the most enjoyable events of the season. The program will be given in the social hall of the Congregational Church, the use of which was donated for the purpose. It will be under auspices of the committee which had in charge the summer park concerts.

Lieut. L. C. Kilgore and J. H. Dries of the Los Angeles police department will present motion pictures showing the hazards of the highways and how to avoid accidents. Those who saw a somewhat similar film shown at last year's police entertainment know how interesting they can be made. Crime detection through the use of fingerprints will be explained by Sergeant H. L. Barlow. Nick Harris, famous detective, will give one of his lectures tending to prove that crime does not pay.

One of the big features of the evening will be singing by the Los Angeles Police Quartet. "Bob and Monte," the famous KFI duo, will also appear in specialty numbers.

Chief Charles H. Kelley of the Pasadena police department will be present as the result of a special "summons" served on him thru the efforts of Chairman W. R. Humphries. It is expected that heads of police departments in other nearby cities will also be on hand for introduction so the Sierra Madre public may know at least what they look like.

Preceding the entertainment the visitors will be entertained at a dinner arranged through the efforts of the committee. It will be served at the Sierra Madre Cafe. The program tonight will begin at 8 o'clock. The visiting entertainers deserve a packed house.

"The Wren" Scores Hit Two Nights

Smooth Production of Great
Comedy Delights
Audiences

Two satisfied audiences filled the Woman's Clubhouse Friday and Saturday nights and registered complete approval of "The Wren," as presented under auspices of the Masonic lodge. The capable cast left little to be desired in the fine interpretation of the Booth Tarkington comedy.

Special mention should be made of the work of Mears Pitcher of Pasadena who took the difficult part of Roddy on about three days' notice when Stafford Sadler was called north on an unavoidable business trip. His interpretation was excellent and would have done credit to much longer preparation.

James N. Hawks as the handy man about the inn; David Buchan as Cap'n Olds, keeper of the inn, were a couple of aces in character parts. Miss Edith Blumer, Mrs. W. R. Morgan, Mrs. Randolph Wood and H. C. Tweedale took the remaining parts with excellent taste and under the capable direction of Mrs. H. E. Allen made an exceptionally well rounded production.

To Hold Class in Drama for Young People of Church

Under direction of Mrs. J. Milton Steinberger a drama class for young people was formed last night by young people of the Congregational Church, meeting in the educational department. Voice work and stage technique will be studied and Shakespeare will probably be taken up. The large place in religious education taken by nageantry makes this a promising field of activity.

Times Feature Men To Be Featured on Kiwanis Program

Members of the Kiwanis Club are looking forward to a real treat at next Tuesday's luncheon program. The entertainment will be provided by Lee Shippey whose "Lee-Side of L. A." enlivens the editorial page of the Times, and Bruce Russell, whose sport cartoons and portrait sketches appear in various sections of the Times. President Tack Webster is convinced that for once the attendance record will amount to a hundred and some per cent.

Dinner Will See Opening Of Roll Call

Red Cross Chapter Planning
Annual Membership
Campaign

Entertainment to Feature Instruction in First Aid
Work

Sierra Madre's annual Red Cross Roll call will be started with a community dinner to be given Friday night, November 9, in the social hall of the Congregational Church. The annual membership canvass starts officially on Armistice Day, and this dinner and entertainment are planned to start the campaign with a big impetus.

Arrangements for the dinner were concluded at Monday's meeting of the Red Cross directors in the city hall. Mrs. Hortense Hill announced that the Congregational Church officers had agreed to donate the use of the social hall. Mrs. A. F. Snell will be in general charge of the preparation and serving of the dinner, in consultation with Mrs. Hill and Miss Flora Vannier.

President W. R. Humphries announced that L. E. Palmer, an expert in first aid work, would stage a demonstration in that line. Other entertainment features will be arranged under direction of Miss Edith Blumer. An address will be given by Miss Marianne King, assistant national director with headquarters in San Francisco. The reception committee will consist of Rev. and Mrs. A. O. Pritchard, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Humphries, Mrs. Ellen C. Barker and Mrs. Ralph W. Stewart.

Ticket sales for the dinner will be in charge of Mrs. M. D. Welsher. Mrs. Emil Sturmthal will have the task of organizing a crew of waitresses. It is planned to serve a menu with both fish and meat, so as to suit all tastes.

The quota to be raised in the annual roll call is $750. This is secured largely thru individual memberships at one dollar each. However, a considerable number of $5, $10 and $25 memberships are needed to insure going over the top. Sierra Madre has always held an enviable record for Red Cross support. It is hoped the recent contribution of more than $1,000 for Florida hurricane relief will not militate against the success of the annual roll call because of the fact.

As a new branch of local Red Cross activity the directors voted to organize a class in first aid instruction. This will be conducted by Mr. Palmer over a period of weeks. The only cost to students will be for the text books.

Chief W. D. Richards of the fire department suggested that the firemen would welcome this opportunity as some of them had already gone to other places for instruction. The first and third Fridays from 7 to 9 were suggested, thus alternating with fire drill nights. It is hoped a large class will enroll. All who are interested are asked to communicate with Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, chapter secretary.

Miss Edith Chaffee, field representative of the district, spoke of the Junior Red Cross and its growth in the past years. She stated that 12,000,000 children are now enrolled in the Junior Red Cross of this and other nations, and exchange communications thru out the world.

H. Clay Reavis was elected treasurer of the local chapter to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Col. Herman Hall. Miss Edith Blumer reported on the convention recently held at Riverside.

A meeting of the committees on the dinner will be held Monday, November 5, in the City Hall, at 4:30 p. m.

Big Frolic Celebrates Hallowe'en

Parent-Teacher Carnival Entertains Big Crowd at School

Parade, Dinner and Program
Help in Preventing
Mischiefs

Hallowe'en fun was provided for a multitude of people by the Parent-Teacher Association carnival Wednesday night. The Big Parade which circulated from the school house through the business section and back to school just at dusk contained a remarkable assortment of goblins, witches and other creatures in strange garb.

Dinner in the school cafeteria proved to be an appetizing meal for those fortunate enough to have made their reservations in advance. The dinner as well as the general arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Joe Stimpfling, president. Through the evening the various booths were well patronized and furnished more amusement. They were in charge of the following: Mrs. A. T. Evans, cooked food and candy; Mrs. Harry Holland, refreshments; Mrs. George McRoberts, white elephant; Mrs. H. C. Reavis, fish pond.

The entertainment program was in charge of Mrs. W. H. Butts and the entertainers did their parts nobly in the face of difficult conditions of performance. Uncle Remus with his impersonations and songs brought a famous radio character to intimate terms with the children. Other numbers were furnished by Dorothy Walsworth and Gertrude Bandy, who danced; Leland Auer with a trumpet solo; the Auer Trio, which includes the Misses Mildred and Marguerite Auer and Leland Auer; and the Sierra Madre Quartet consisting of Jack and David Buchan, J. C. Heasley and Joe R. Eastwood.

On behalf of the association, Mrs. Stimpfling asks the News to extend sincere thanks to all who worked to make the affair a success, those who participated in the program and all who contributed or patronized it.

This celebration served as an outlet for the Hallowe'en spirits of the little folk and for some of the big folk. Chief of Police Cox and an ample corps of special police kept the rest of the town so orderly that there was not even a soap mark on a store window down town.

Cal-Tech is Given Great Observatory

Telescope to Be Double Size of World's Present
Largest

Again the clear air of the Sierra Madre mountains and the pre-eminence of California Institute of Technology receive recognition which stirs the scientific world. This comes with announcement of a great telescope with 200-inch reflector, double the size of the Mt. Wilson telescope which is now the largest in the world.

Expense of building the new telescope and necessary observatory will be borne by the General Education Board with headquarters in New York City. In addition, the gift will provide for the erection and equipment of an astrophysical laboratory on the campus of the institute in Pasadena.

Location of the new observatory is not yet announced. The official statement merely says it will be located on the most favorable mountain site that can be found within effective working distance of the associated groups of investigators.

The new laboratory will be equipped with instruments and all necessary facilities for study and interpretation of the observational results obtained with the 200-inch telescope, and for graduate instruction in astrophysics. It will be supplemented with optical and instrument shops capable of constructing any of the instruments to be used in connection with the 200-inch telescope.

In the absence of any definite statement concerning the observatory site, there are many reasons

Elk Band Benefit Raymond Theatre Monday Night

Lovers of the spoken drama will have an opportunity to enjoy a good play, and do a good turn at the same time Monday night. "The Gossipy Sex" played by the King Players, at the Raymond Theatre, is offered as a benefit for the famous Pasadena Elk Band, which opened the park concert season in Sierra Madre last spring. The King Players are quite popular with the theatre fans, and it is hoped that a number of Sierra Madrans will attend the Monday night performance as a courtesy to our friends, the members of the band.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Lehner spent the week end as guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Farman at their cottage at Mill Creek.

Street Tree Plans Ready For Advance

Thousands of Trees Are Now Available in City
Nursery

Planning Commission Offers
To Furnish Trees Sans
Expense

This season should see a substantial advance in the street-tree planting problem if the public will co-operate with the city planning commission. Plans of the commission members which were started two years ago have now developed to the point where a material showing can be made.

Several thousand trees in the propagating station in the city park are now available for planting. These include Monterey Pines, Italian Cypress, Acacia and Carobs.

Soon after Chairman Oskar Seiling was appointed to the office, the commission secured from the city council authority to erect a lath house in the park for propagating trees. At an expense of $50 for the lath house, $7.50 for seed and a small amount for pots and tubs, a beginning was made.

There are now on hand 600 Monterey Pines of about three feet in height, 3,000 Italian and Arizona Cypress about 18 inches, and a couple of hundred Acacia and carob trees from three to four feet high.

With these trees ready, the members of the planning commission hope to interest property owners in uniform street tree planting. It is suggested that a tree be chosen for each street, although units as small as one block will be authorized where it is not practicable to get a whole street lined up.

Under the new city budget the planning commission is allowed the sum of $1200 for the fiscal year. It is proposed to use this money for street tree planting and care. There will be no expense to property owners unless they prefer to plant larger trees of the authorized variety, which they must procure at their own expense.

Streets for which trees have been officially designated are as follows: Carter Avenue from Mira Monte to Auburn, Incease Cedar; Sycamore Place, east side; Magnolia, west side, Lawson Cypress; Montecito from Mountain Trail to Baldwin, Italian Cypress; Auburn, north of Carter, Incease Cedar; Alegria from Baldwin to Auburn, Lombardy Poplar; Wilson, Lombardy Poplars and Monterey Pines alternating.

Masonic Lodge Will Entertain Election Night

The Masonic Lodge will observe election night next Tuesday with an entertainment in addition to the regular business of stated meeting night. The business session will be very brief, according to C. L. Twycross, master of the lodge, leaving ample time for enjoyment of the other features of the evening, which will include refreshments.

Rudolph Hartman will provide worth while entertainment with a talk on the wonders of modern chemistry and will provide some demonstrations to illustrate his remarks. During the evening election returns will be received by radio.

Citizens to Take Hand In Project

Urgent Call Sent Out to the Property Owners for Meeting

Council Action a Bomb Shell
to Central Avenue
Committee

Alarmed by the attitude of the city council majority on Tuesday in the Central Avenue Improvement project, the directors of the Central Avenue Property Owners' Association have sent out a call for a meeting of members to be held next Thursday night in the city hall.

The thing that causes concern is the decision to dispense with the services of Frederick Baker as special counsel with Arthur M. Ellis as associate counsel. The assigned reason is their advice against the use of immediate possession bonds and this may have such far-reaching consequences that the association directors decided to put the whole situation before the members before deciding on a course of action.

The directors believe it is time to lift the lid off the whole situation and find out what is back of various things that have happened. Mrs. Jessica Wright, the secretary, said this morning: "When Col. Hall's sudden death caused the postponement of the conference with the council scheduled for September 6, we naturally expected that the association would be given the opportunity of meeting with the council within a reasonable time."

"Various causes have operated to postpone this meeting and we have recently been given to understand that there is little prospect of obtaining any data from the engineer for another three or four weeks. It is now more than two months since the engineer was first asked to be present at a meeting and give the property owners some information as to the estimated costs of the Central Avenue project."

"Meanwhile certain action has been taken by the council, by a vote of three to two, which is bound to be of great importance in the handling of the project. The executive committee feels that, as the property owners are to bear the cost of this huge work, they should be kept thoroughly advised of all developments in connection with it."

"The meeting next week is being called for the purpose of furnishing an opportunity for public discussion of the situation to date and to outline future action. The council, as a body, is not expected to be present—some of them seem most reluctant to face their constituents in regard to this matter—but any or all of them will be most welcome as individuals."

"As the whole city is included in the assessment district to pay for the acquisition of the property it will be necessary to condemn if the plan as outlined is to be carried out, every property owner in the city has a very real interest in the matter and should attend this meeting. The acquisition costs may prove to be a most unpleasant surprise."

"The assessment district for improvements takes in two blocks north and south of Central. If those property owners are not sufficiently interested to be willing to support the effort to keep the cost within reason, they may have serious reasons for regrets when the bill is presented."

"The executive committee urges every property owner to attend the meeting next Thursday evening."

Election Wagers Few as Election Day Draws Near

It begins to look as though Dr. Woehler and Joe Eastwood would go down the "long, long trail" of post-election time all alone. The announcement of their interesting wagers seems to have left the natives "cold" so far as additional wagers are concerned, but it is anticipated that the sidelines will be graced by plenty of spectators when the "bets" are paid next Saturday week.

Geo. Hapgood and Roy Pickett have been endeavoring to get together on some sort of pact concerning a peanut and methods of propulsion down the boulevard, but so far nothing has developed.

Cellist to Be The Soloist At Concert

Pelix Salmond Will Appear With Philharmonic Orchestra

The second symphony pair of concerts of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra, Geo. Schnevoigt conductor, will take place at the Philharmonic Auditorium, Thursday evening, November 8, and Friday afternoon, November 9. Felix Salmond, noted English cellist, will be the soloist, playing Concerto for cello and orchestra in D minor, by Lalo.

This artist was born in London of a musical family, his father being Norman Salmond, the noted British baritone, and his mother a well known pianist. Mr. Salmond was heard with the Philharmonic Orchestra under the baton of the late Walter Henry Rothwell in November, 1925, at which time he was most enthusiastically received.

A number to be given first hearing at these concerts is Symphony No. 1 in E flat major, "The Rustic Wedding," by Goldmark; Wedding March, Bridal Song, Serenade, In the Garden, Rustic Dance.

On this same program Conductor Schnevoigt has programmed a number by Ernest Bloch ("Scheherazade") (Solomon) Hebrew Rhapsody, with cello obligato by Felix Salmond, which will be given first hearing in Los Angeles.

A GREAT TRIBUTE

If you are ever so fortunate as to visit our National Capitol at Washington, you will find many things to thrill you. But none, perhaps, as stirring as one picture that hangs as a permanent gift to the American people and a fitting tribute to one of the most glorious deeds in all our nation's proud history.

This wonderful picture bears the simple title "WE," and as the name suggests, depicts the gallant flight of Col. Chas. A. Lindbergh from New York to Paris—the flight that thrilled the world, and gave it probably its most loved hero of all time. And the best part of all this, you can have a handsome copy of "WE" printed in twelve colors and measuring 18x24 inches, to hang in your own home. You cannot buy the picture at any price. It may be had only thru The Youth's Companion as its free gift to you with a year's subscription to the magazine.

In its new form as a monthly magazine, The Companion itself has more to offer than ever before—a full book-length novel complete in each issue; serials and short stories; feature articles, editorials, contests, puzzles, poems, recommendations of books and motion pictures, and special departments for both boys and girls covering their own favorite activities.

Yes Vote Urged On Proposition for State Building

Civic bodies in Southern California are urging adoption of the milliar dollar state building site bonds. Inasmuch as the state departments now located in Los Angeles are in widely scattered locations, there is loss in time, money and convenience to the people compelled to do business with the building is declared to be a necessity and the cost is relatively insignificant compared with the many benefits to be received. It is estimated that the cost to taxpayers will be less than an average of 2 mills per $100 valuation. The state has authorized the expenditure of $1,250,000 for a state building.

A Plain Statement of Facts

To meet the request of numbers of my supporters and friends, I am making this appeal to those who intend voting on Nov. 6, and to those who will vote in later years.

I have been asked how I stand on the wet and dry question. Right now I go on record for the liquid side of the controversy. We need more water for Sierra Madre. You can never have enough of a good thing and it's better to be in a position to sell than buy. Let's all vote wet on this dry subject.

Regarding immigration, I feel that all comers to the gates of our city should be welcomed—places prepared for them—vacant lots kept clean—and no quota made. As a realtor making, in many cases the first contacts with new-comers, giving them a real welcome, one, going farther than the mere renting of a place to live in, trying to make the place a home for them—looking after the details of moving in—giving a real service to the new-comers—this I have done in the past and at this time I pledge myself to continue to do so.

In the matter of employment, we are told of the mills without workers, of the plants and their workers standing idle. I go on record with this statement, that during the past two years of my realtorship, as a public service I have found work for over 250 people, ranging from a day to a year in length of service, and that I stand ready if re-elected to continue this service for the benefit of all concerned.

As regards protection, yes—I stand for protection, furnishing insurance protection for all citizens, their homes, their property and their pocket-books. My slogan in the past "Insurance That Insures" still stands.

Foreign trade needs more effort. I have in the past and will continue in the future to promote a better trade with the outside world. During the past two years of my term of office I have mailed and distributed over 2500 pieces of printed matter and written over 400 letters. All have been written with the purpose of selling Sierra Madre to the outside world. This work has been backed up by a steady advertising campaign in outside newspapers—this campaign covering the publishing of over six hundred and sixty different ads telling the world of the advantages of living in and being a part of this City of Sierra Madre.

Some are anxious to know of my stand on farm relief—I will say that in this city I stand for tree relief—before the farm or farmer gets any relief—the old, worn-out trees with their diseased limbs should be removed, and at once.

Regarding public ownership of utilities—I feel that a bus service owned and operated by this city, giving its citizens transportation that would assist them in their shopping, visiting and general movements would be a good step in the right direction.

My stand on the tax question is not changed and that is this: As long as beauty is not taxed, let us beautify our home places, and if later on beauty is taxed—well, then pay the tax. The women have done it for years and turned many a hair, and still they are claiming "it's a skin game."

Some people are anxious to know my stand on the hat question—the color of the paving of Central Avenue—etc., etc. Well, a brown derby is better than no hat at all, but after all its what's under the hat that counts.

Then, some folks want their coffee black and their paving white.

In answer to that time-worn question: Is the country going to the dogs? My answer is No. Buy a piece of Sierra Madre, hold it, plant a few trees while you hold it, and I know you will make a profit. There's no better place to live and live.

To those who have made it possible for me to ask for re-election support of this campaign, I say "Thanks!" and promise to still answer questions with no trouble at the little office opposite the bank. In the marking of your ballots put a cross against the name of

Union Pacific to Erect Station in East Los Angeles

Official and practical recognition of the growing importance of East Los Angeles and the triangular area incorporated between the cities of Pasadena, East San Pedro and Anaheim is given in the announcement by the Union Pacific System of a new passenger station that is to be erected at the intersection of Atlantic Boulevard and Telegraph Road. The station will cost about $100,000. A parlor bus service will be inaugurated to a score of communities following the completion of the station. All thru trains of the Union Pacific station will stop at the new station and be met by the parlor car line schedules. This innovation will tend to increase Union Pacific travel with people living in Sierra Madre as it brings this railway system closer and more convenient than ever before.

Only when the driver practices the principles of courtesy and caution may the nation hope for a reduction in the human toll it pays for transportation, is the conclusion reached in a summing up of the situation by the American Road Builders Association.

Lot two (2) in Tract 7759 as per map recorded in Book 93, Page 5 of Maps,

Pardon Me, But— —by— The Baseball Nut

Another one for the book last Sunday, leaving the Merchants with three wins and two defeats in the Greater California Baseball League.

The Odd Fellows did not give the opposition expected of them. They are capable of playing much better ball than they exhibited last Sunday. They attributed their loss to the failure of their pitchers, but the Nut thinks it was the Merchants' hitting that caused their downfall. The team as a whole collected 14 singles, to the tune of 19 bases and runs, coupled with the Odd Fellows' nine errors and three free passes tells the story.

Muller, Leo Smith and Lama furnished the folks with an exhibition of how the bases ought NOT to be run. We lost one game thru bad base running, so boys, here's hoping you've got it out of your system now.

Harkness was the individual Merchant star. He collected three hits, two of them good for two bases, bringing in five runs and scoring two. Keep the good work up, "Minor."

Pitcher Bent was unable to hold the Odd Fellows in check for the full game but he deserves much credit for the win. It was he that started the scoring with his two-base hit in the second inning, and in three times at bat he made two hits, drove in two runs and scored twice.

Sunday's game with the A. T. Alaris A. C. will be a good game. The Merchants played them Oct. 7 and it was this game that ended with an umpire's decision awarding the game to the Merchants. These Mexican boys can play ball and its the "Nuts" opinion they are the best team the Merchants have tangled with yet. Let's turn out and root for the Merchants to win, but don't forget the courtesy to the visitors. The "Nut," like many others, feels that these boys were given several "raw" decisions in the last game, but Manager Scott has since employed league umpires, resulting in the elimination of any biased decisions.

By the way, keep your eye on Alaris' second baseman. He sure played a bang-up game in the field. In fact their whole infield looked sweet.

"Wave" Pratt scouted the Merchants last Sunday looking for weaknesses for his Legion team to work on Armistice Day. Wave's still convinced that the Merchants won't be able to stop his team; so folks, don't go away on Monday, November 12.

Next week Manager Scott and Treasurer Griebel will submit a financial report, so that all who patronize the hats that Lee Hibbs, Austin Gibbs, et al, pass around, will know how their "offering" is being expended.

See you at the game Sunday. Mrs. Earl D. Topping has returned home after a month's stay at the Good Samaritan Hospital, where she was taken because of an attack of colitis. She is now much improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Tuggle entertained with a delightful Halloween dinner party the evening of October 30, at their Coffee Shop, 45 North Baldwin. Doors were closed at 7:30 and everyone proceeded to make the occasion one to be remembered by all. Guests invited were: Mr. and Mrs. Tom Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. Theo Wade, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Evans, Mr. and Mrs. L. Fox, Mrs. D. Taylor, Miss Ella S. Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pickett, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Halpin, Miss Josephine Lalone and Miss Ethel Tuggle.

Merchants Take Contest From Visitors

Odd Fellows Fail to Live Up to Advance Reports and

Locals Cop

Sunday's contest looked like it might be a ball game—until the last half of the second, when a slather of runs crossed the well-known mat in favor of the home guards. Hits and errors figured in the deluge. The visitors failed to connect until the seventh when an error by one of his brothers in arms, caused Mr. Bent to lose his prestige, control, and what had he, with most disastrous results. He was derided with two men out, and Kinney, the wild man from the tall eucalyptus, came to the rescue with his usual assortment of steam and wide ones. But he weathered the storm after three more visitors had passed the reviewing stand in the eighth, turning e'm back in the last frame.

Harkness starred for the locals both in batting and fielding. There is a sweet ball player. The outfield, too, stacks up with any amateur aggregation in these parts. Heber, Smith and Elk, all perform plenty good enough, both with the bluegown and in the garden. Lama is plenty adequate, especially considering that he has to have a reach like a Moline wagon at times—reaching for wide or high ones. He got two nice hits Sunday. Bent showed that he is a good moundsman, with reservations. If he could keep the upper lip stiff during the blue moments, it would be tough for his opposition, any day.

Reservations

By J. R. E.

Reservations don't care what happens, but we'll refuse to vote for any candidate for alderman who prefers the present system of bridge paths to cement sidewalks.

The ramifications of the campaign have again made popular that old refrain "The Sidewalks of New York." But if you want a good hee-haw, just walk around and stub your toes on The Sidewalks of Sierra Madre.

It almost seems that there has been a conspiracy here all these years to starve the cement sidewalk manufacturers to death.

We are for "Sidewalks Poist; Pavements (white or black) Second or Third."

Well, the world is growing better after all, regardless of the scandal in the district attorney's office. We know of a house that has stood, vacant and condemned, on the "main stem" for almost two years. It has passed thru two Halloweens and the windows are almost a 100 per cent intact.

In the hot stove league the other day Walter Poehler and Walter Heber were discussing the old days (or nights). One Halloween, Mr. Poehler deposes, the students at Minnesota University took "Uncle Billy" Folwell's horse and buggy ("Uncle Billy" was the president of the institution) up to the fourth floor of the main building, hitched him up, and left him in the chapel, where he was found early next morning. And Walt Heber tells how the kids in his town took the village hearse, dismantled it and placed it (fully assembled) astride the roof of a prominent business house. "That was sure hard work," says Walt.

Personally, we must admit that it was a dull Halloween back in the 'old days when there were not two or three telephone pay stations moved to the prominent intersections by the mischievous sprites.

Grand opera don't know what it missed when Jim Heasley elected to do something other than take up voice culture. The other night at the Halloween party, when the Prickley Heat Four sang to the kiddies, the selections were pitched so high that Jack Buchanan could hardly sing the bass parts. But Jim reached up and picked off the high C's and D's as easy as not.

WHAT PRICE ASTRONOMY

"WHAT good is it?" is a question in the minds of a great many people when they hear of huge investments in observatories and vast endowments to carry on the search of the heavens. The question is irritating to a scientist who is almost moved to combat by it. But it is a fair question, because it must have been answered before head-headed millionaires would provide the means for carrying the work further.

Strange as it may seem, man has learned about the earth and his own immediate environment by studying the stars. He has learned about the constitution of matter by studying the tenuous gases of the sun. The chemical elements have always existed in the earth. But the presence of many of them were not suspected until the spectroscopic began to tell the secrets of the sun. The marvelous refinements of that instrument during the last quarter century have carried observers into realms little suspected before.

In the not distant past, chemistry was one science, physics another, geology, astronomy and mathematics were still others. Now scientists are convinced of the absolute unity of all of them, and of complete co-operation among all. Some of the most valuable metal alloys used in modern industry are the result of co-operation between astronomers and physicists who first detected the new elements in flaming stars.

Just the other day Owen D. Young, chairman of the board of the General Electric Company, paid his tribute to these scientists in a public address. He has found a kind of poetry that pays. He said:

"I salute the workers in physical research as the poets of today. They contribute the warming glow of inspiration to industry, and when industry pulls their ideas down from the heavens to the earth and harnesses them for practical service, it, too, feels that it is an important factor, not only in the making of things, but on the larger stage of human spirit; there may be enough poetry in the whirl of our machines so that our machine age will become immortal."

So the clear air of the Sierra Madre mountains will again provide the setting for new excursions into remote space with another "greatest telescope in the world." The new instrument to be erected for California Institute of Technology will supplement and extend the work of Mount Wilson Observatory in its established position of leadership.

Sierra Madre has too many sidewalks. The News would not advocate taking up all of them. But the isolated sections which are a stumbling block as you come to them and something to fall off of when you leave them are a nuisance. Would it be too revolutionary to suggest completing the blocks where such sidewalks exist?

Again the question is being asked: "Who is running this town?" Strange the way that question keeps bobbing up. And now it looks as if a considerable number of people were bent on getting an answer. The sooner the better.

Northern California will get a strangle hold on the government of California if proposition No. 1 on the ballot is approved by the voters. The small counties of the north, with their sparse population, would outvote the larger areas and larger population of the south in the senate. The thirteen southern counties have the bulk of the population and of the taxable wealth of the state. And yet the north would always have the whip hand in the state senate. Better let the present arrangement ride, unfair as it is, than tie ourselves up under that kind of rule. The cry about city domination of state politics which is urged in support of the act is just a bogey-man raised to frighten the rural districts.

TAXING NATIONAL BANKS

ONE of the most vital propositions submitted to the voters is No. 3, on Taxation. Its adoption is necessary to avoid exempting national banks from taxation in California. If it is defeated the millions of dollars which the banks should pay will have to be paid by someone else. Even the banks do not offer any argument against it. The new law is made necessary by a court decision declaring the old law taxing national banks as invalid.

Society and Personal

Monthly Meeting at Bethany Hall

The Women's Missionary Society of Bethany Church will hold its monthly meeting in Bethany Hall Tuesday, November 6th, beginning promptly at 10:30 in the morning.

The Society is unusually fortunate in having Sir William Wanless, a returned missionary and surgeon from India, as the afternoon speaker. Sir Wanless has spent forty years on the mission field and has restored sight to about 10,000 people, which is the largest number credited to any one person. Because of his marvelous work in India, he has the honor of being the only American to receive a title from the English government.

During the morning session, Mrs. J. A. Reed will have charge of the Current Events and Mrs. F. H. Cram from San Gabriel will lead in the devotions. Luncheon will be served at noon and a short business meeting will be held at 1:30, followed at 2:00 o'clock by the speaker of the afternoon.

Everyone is urged to be present to enjoy the fellowship and inspiration of this meeting.

All Day Sewing for Church Bazaar

The Woman's Society of the Congregational Church will hold another all-day sewing next Tuesday for the annual bazaar, to which all friends are invited. Mrs. E. D. Burbank will again read aloud for an hour during the morning, adding much to the pleasure of the workers. Each one is requested to bring her own lunch, and hot coffee will be served.

Interesting News Notes from Sierra Madre Canyon

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Logan of Long Beach are enjoying two days' vacation at Haley Villa.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Morris and Mr. Morris' sister, Mrs. C. L. Ogle, were guests at the Tapo Ranch in Santa Susana from Saturday until Tuesday.

Miss Blanche Bowdle and Miss Vesta E. Brown of Long Beach have rented Mrs. Elizabeth Musgrove's cottage, "Kil-Kare," until the Christmas holidays.

Capt. and Mrs. J. K. Martenstein of Honolulu are guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Bradford for a few days. Mrs. Martenstein is a sister of Mr. Bradford.

Mrs. J. B. Roberts and her niece, Miss Peggy Peel, are leaving this week for a short stay in Los Angeles. Mrs. Roberts and Miss Peel have been canyon residents for the past four months.

Mrs. Inez Reid, Mrs. Kathleen Long of Long Beach and Wm. A. Thomas were guests of B. C. Maxwell for a few days during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Davis entertained a group of friends on Sunday with a chicken dinner served out of doors on the bridge at their cottage, "Bridge Inn." The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Maycock, Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Maycock and sons De-vaun and Cameron, of Pasadena, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. D. Johnson.

Lorraine Petzel was the guest of honor at a surprise Halloween party given at the Petzel home on Monday evening. Returning home from dinner with Miss Alice Corum, she found the guests waiting. Adding to the surprise were life-sized witches occupying prominent positions in trees and ghosts lurking in spooky places throughout the grounds. Weird jack-o-lanterns hung from trees and chandeliers. The evening was spent in games appropriate to the occasion, after which pumpkin pie, ginger bread, cider, apples and corn candies were served on the tables lighted with candles, by Mrs. Petzel with Mrs. Lillian I. Lewis and Mrs. L. S. High assisting.

Those present were Alice Corum, Alice Vieira, Lilah and Althea Croxson and Leona High. The Canyon Improvement Association gave a Halloween party in the club house on Wednesday evening to canyon residents and property owners. The club house was gay with Halloween decorations and autumn boughs. From the rafters were suspended witches, grinning lanterns and black cats. The affair was well patronized by Canyon folks. The fantastic costumes of the children in contrast to the more sober attire of the grown-ups lent a festive appearance to the scene. The evening was spent in games and a general good time, after which Mrs. W. B. Corum, in charge of cider, doughnuts, apples and nuts, was much in demand. Decorations were in charge of Mrs. S. Petzel.

Clarence L. Virgin returned home Tuesday from a 60-day trip to the middle western and southern states where he worked and visited in a dozen towns in central and southeastern Arkansas and several towns in northern Louisiana. Considerable time was spent in Little Rock, capital of the state and home of Senator Joe T. Robinson.

Mr. Virgin suggests that if folks out this way think they are having a political campaign they "just ain't seen nothing," that from Kansas City on west, this is a different world in which we live.

Mr. Virgin relates an interesting discussion entered into with a druggist in Hot Springs, Arkansas, Senator Joe's stronghold, which brought out the fact that even some democrats in that section are almost willing to concede the election to Herbert Hoover. This druggist started the discussion by stating that he was a democrat, a Smith democrat, a Smith booster and expected to cast his vote for Al Smith and that he had an uncle who was also a democrat, a Smith democrat and was stumpin' his section of the state for the Smith-Robinson ticket. This uncle had recently had all his teeth extracted.

When questioned by the druggist nephew as to when he expected to get his new teeth, the uncle answered "not until Al Smith is elected." The comment of the nephew was "Uncle, don't you reckon you'll be drinking soup for a good many years?"

Will H. Fischer Again Advanced In Edison Ranks

Will H. Fischer has been made assistant to the president of the Southern California Edison company, according to an announcement emanating from the office of R. H. Ballard, president.

Beginning his business career in newspaper work Fischer has maintained an active interest in public affairs. In the summer of 1899 he began work on San Francisco papers and continued in newspaper work in San Francisco for several years. In 1911 he became editor of the California Outlook, a weekly published in Los Angeles. This post he resigned to become an editorial writer on the Los Angeles Evening Express and the Morning Tribune, continuing this work until he joined the Taxpayers Association of California in an executive capacity.

Joining the Edison company in 1921, Fischer has been very close to President Ballard in all matters bearing upon public relations.

During his entire business life Fischer has been a leading spirit in the Masonic Order and has just completed a year as Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of California.

Of course nobody doubts a candidate's promise, but you'll notice the price of farm land hasn't increased greatly.—Publishers Syndicate.

Fire Flames

By One of the Boys

This cool weather ought to bring us a fire soon. We are not asking for one, but just presenting a reminder that over-heated wood stoves, and open fires need careful watching. Electric heaters also can be left too near combustible substances. Nevertheless, if a fire occurs, the boys of the fire department are always ready to answer the call. Most of the boys have fire-fighting togs at their bedsides, in readiness for the screaming of the siren. We hope sometime to be equipped with regulation apparel of the sort consisting of trousers and boots combined, that can be donned in a few seconds' time.

As we have very few fires in Sierra Madre, the residents must be commended for their carefulness. Other cities of the same size are not so fortunate. However, at this time of year extra precaution should be taken as a preventative measure. In the hot, dry weather we have the dry brush and grass hazard, but in the winter we have the over-heated stove.

At last Friday's practice, the hose, the truck, and the pumps were found in excellent order. Gordon Brooks was challenged to make a hook-up alone, and succeeded beyond expectations. It is Chief Richards' aim to keep all the boys acquainted with the necessary maneuvers of fire-fighting, and were it not for these continuous rehearsals, one would soon forget. Don Hosford replaced the hose to the proper place and also deserves favorable mention for the neatness he applied. Harry Peterson, W. L. Hibbs and Tom Schwartz held a consultation about the workings of the four-way and as there were no blows struck, it is presumed that Lee was right.

Vern Udell stood quietly during the harrassing conversation, awaiting an opportunity to explain, if needed.

The last practice took place at the corner of Mt. Trail and Highland Avenues. The gravity pressure at this point is terrific and needs very little pumping.

At our meeting, the usual business routine was carried out, with a 100% attendance. Chief Richards has gotten himself into a precarious position as regards "fuss" words. Gordon Brooks was fined for saying an ordinary word, but was asked if he would be heard to say it on the street. Answering "No" he was soaked. Lee Hibbs said "Lord" and altho a great many insisted he be fined, the chief refused to fine him. He said if Lee wanted to say that on the street, no one would object. Others were fined pro rata.

During the quietness of a serious problem before the house, our expert coffee maker ("Scotty" Swanson) was noticed staggering from the kitchen. His face was white as any snow, and with one hand over his head and one over his nose he fell in a faint in the nearest divan, causing an instant turmoil. Rushing to his aid Gordon McMillen headed for the kitchen for a glass of water. He, too, staggered backward in a faint. Several tried with the same result. Far back in the midst of a rising blue smoke, a hilarious laugh would be heard, recognized as that of Louie. The smoke had finally begun to circulate about the room and was soon discovered (by experienced men) to be nothing less than the fumes of limberger cheese that Louie had opened up to carry out his threat. Included among those who did not faint were H. A. Thew, Chief Richards, George Norris, Steve Petzel, Roy Walsworth, Jim Heasley and Bob Babbitt. The rest all fainted. The non-fainting members mentioned above heartily. After the fainting members came to, they ordered all the windows opened and the fan and radio turned on.

Chief Richards stated that there would not be a meeting for three weeks. This, he now corrects by saying that our next meeting will be Nov. 9 at the usual time. This will also be ladies night as planned and may the ladies abide thereby. It is hoped that our wife doesn't tell "everything" she knows about us, and the rest of the boys are wishing ditto. The plans are that the ladies should play cards but we wager there'll be more noise than 14 P. E. cars with 8 flat wheels each, coming up Central Avenue. For once our radio will be outlasted.

As far as can be learned, Bob Babbitt is proceeding with the arrangements to play baseball Saturday afternoon. He is to select a team from among the firemen to play Scotty's all-star team. This should be very exciting, to see the firemen put things out. A number of the boys are former members of other days and this gives them an opportunity to enjoy the one-time pleasure. Included in the firemen's lineup will be Gordon McMillen, Frank Lovell, Lee Hibbs, Joe Swanson, and Louie Karger, and with this profound list available it is doubtful as to whether Scotty's team will ever get them out. There is one thing certain, that a pitcher with "smoke" will have no effect on these fire-eaters. We may probably be forced to wear our helmets to protect our heads. Having the truck handy may be a good suggestion. The first aid kit is thereon, with many splints as part of the contents. Included in our membership is the police department, so don't start anything. It is vainly hoped that the heavy artillery of Scotty's team are in the opposing lineup to see whether they can knock one over a firemen's helmet. Play ball! Despite the fact that we now have "The Nut" covering the baseball games, this column must come in with a little personal comment. Last Sunday's game started out like a pretty good game of baseball, but after our boys found pitcher number one, and the outfielders failed to support him it became somewhat one-sided. With all due respect to the home boys for hitting the ball on the nose there were several fly hits that should have been fielded by our opponents' fielders and which were very costly to them. This is not meant as a criticism; just to kill over-confidence. Our "heavy artillery" batting rams are developing into a heavier artillery and regardless of how the opponents' pitchers worked, they hit 'em.

Don't forget our next meeting will be held on the evening of November 9. This will also be ladies night. Hot stuff, and the FIRE'S OUT!

Don't get the mistaken idea that any other cleaner can do for her what The Hoover will do. No other cleaner cleans as completely—no other cleaner cleans as swiftly!

Yet you need pay no more for The Hoover than you would for a vacuum cleaner. The cash price of the Model 543 Hoover is but $59.50 and you will receive a liberal allowance for your old cleaner. Easy terms, if you wish. Floor polisher and dusting tools at small extra cost.

Trojans and Cards Meet On Saturday

Two Different Systems of Coaching Meet in Contest

Two different schools of the gridiron art, each proven highly successful and each exceptionally popular with the fans, will be demonstrated when U.S.C. and Stanford football teams clash Saturday at the L. A. Coliseum.

The basis of the game as taught both by Coach Howard Jones of the Trojans and Coach Pop Warner of the Cardinals is power, but the methods by which each employs deception to add to his team's power are considerably different.

In general, the deception of the Warner system lies in the work of the backfield, which features an interesting array of reverses, criss crosses and other types of plays designed to cover up the man with the ball. On the other hand, the deception of the Jones system lies not so much in covering up the method of attack in the line.

While word has come down to Los Angeles that Warner is polishing up his attack from his new Formation B, the Jonesmen have been going thru secret workouts preparing to meet the Card attack and attempting to strengthen their own offense. While the mysterious title of secret practice may lead one to believe that Jones is working out an entirely new line of attack, it is believed that he is merely trying to get his customary power offense in good order, a state which numerous injuries in early season games to running guards, interference halfbacks and other key men in his attack have thus far made impossible.

Big Thrills Booked For Week's Bill

"Wings" Will Bring Climax to List of Splendid Features

The sacrifice of a girl, who risks the love of her fiancé to conduct an affair with a German spy, is absorbingly told in Robert Kane's "Convoy," First National's great navy epic which comes tonight to the Wistaria. Dorothy Mackaill, Lowell Sherman, Lawrence Gray and Buster Collier are featured.

"Four Walls" which comes Sunday, is the story of a New York gangster who is railroaded to prison and while within the walls is taught by a lifer that his real limitations are the four walls of his mind. His efforts to "come back" after his release, and to win the real love of the girl who had always before been the life of the party form a good story. John Gilbert and Joan Crawford have the leading roles.

Tom Meighan and Renee Adoree come Tuesday night in "The Matting Call." It is a picture version of a Rex Beach story.

"Wings" is such a great feature that Manager Myer decided it must have a three-day showing to meet the popular demand. It will open Thursday night and continue the rest of the week. It has continued as the great screen spectacle of recent years, telling a thrilling story of the world war as fought in the air, with romance a big element.

for believing it will be in the mountains to the north of Sierra Madre. Mt. Waterman and other peaks toward the north side of the range have been suggested as most likely to be chosen, considering elevation, atmospheric conditions and accessibility from the Cal-Tech campus.

Close co-operation of the Mt. Wilson Observatory staff in the building and operation of the new observatory has been pledged by Dr. John C. Merriam, president of the Carnegie Institute, Washington. Dr. Robert A. Millikan, president of Cal-Tech, says further:

"The success of the undertaking depends upon the intimate co-operation of many experienced investigators. The California Institute has appointed four members of its executive council in general charge of the project. The Observatory Council thus established comprises Messrs. George Ellery Hale, honorary director of the Mt. Wilson Observatory; Robert A. Millikan, director of the Norman Bridge laboratory of the institute; Arthur A. Noyes, director of the Gates Laboratory of chemistry, and Henry M. Robinson, a leading trustee of the institute. Thru the courtesy of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, Dr. John A. Anderson, a member of the staff of the Mt. Wilson Observatory, will serve as executive officer in direct charge of design and construction. An advisory committee has been appointed consisting of Dr. Walter S. Adams, director of the Mt. Wilson Observatory; Prof. Frederick H. Seares, its assistant director; Dr. Charles G. Abbott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution; Professor A. A. Michelson of the University of Chicago; Prof. Henry Norris Russell of Princeton University, and Professors Richard G. Tolman, Paul S. Epstein and Ira S. Bowen of the California Institute. This committee will actively assist the observatory council and Dr. Anderson in determining matters of policy.

"Many other leading astronomers, physicists, chemists, meteorologists and engineers in these and other institutions have been and will be called upon for advice and assistance. Thus the General Electric Co., thru its president, Gerald Swope, has offered its invaluable co-operation; and Dr. Elihu Thomson, with the assistance of A. I. Ellis, an able research engineer of the company, has begun preliminary work which he believes will lead to the successful casting of a 200-inch mirror disk of fused quartz, a material greatly superior to glass for this purpose, because its form remains almost unchanged under variations of temperature. Ambrose Swasey, chairman of the board of the Warner and Swasey Company; Gano Dunn, the president of J. G. White Engineering Corporation, and other prominent authorities, have also promised the observatory council the benefit of their great experience in engineering and instrumental design and construction. Dr. Frank E. Ross of the Yerkes Observatory has already visited Pasadena to study some of the optical problems, and the design of the telescope and its mountings will be worked out jointly by Dr. Francis G. Pease, Dr. Anderson and other members of the Mt.

the others assented. Councilman Isaacs then took occasion to explain to Mr. Baker that there was no personal animus in his course of action, that he still esteemed Mr. Baker and appreciated his services as city attorney. He felt, however, that Mr. Baker was wrong in his advice concerning immediate possession bonds and objected to slowing up the proceedings for the longer course of action which Mr. Baker had advised in the interest of safety.

During the session Attorney Baker presented an engineer's map of the entire Central Avenue project, showing among other things the portions of the street where it is proposed to condemn property for widening. He pointed out one strip along East Central avenue where a compromise might be effected with objecting property owners, but his suggestion was immediately squelched by Councilman Isaacs.

Water Conference

City Attorney Gierlich asked for a conference with the board on the water department program for expenditure of bond funds. This was set for next Monday at 2 o'clock.

Application of W. E. Deutsch that an exception be made to the zoning ordinance so that he could erect and operate a service station at the southeast corner of Central and Sierra Madre avenues was unanimously denied. Discussion revealed a sentiment that Sierra Madre has enough property zoned for business.

Regular meetings of the board will be held hereafter at 2 p. m. on the second and fourth Tuesdays, instead of in the evening.

TO ALL REGISTERED VOTERS OF SIERRA MADRE

On behalf of Sierra Madre Unit and the Department of California American Legion Auxiliary, I want to urge each registered citizen in this community to vote November 6. We want each citizen to realize this is not only a presidential election but that projects affecting the welfare and success of this commonwealth are also to be voted on. There is yet time for each and every one to study thoroughly the twenty-one subjects on which we ballot and vote intelligently. The American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary, as organizations, do not wish to tell you how you shall vote, but do urge you, as patriotic citizens of the United States of America to VOTE!

Respectfully yours,
Vera W. Stewart,
State Chairman, Community Betterment, American Legion Auxiliary.

Wilson Observatory and the California Institute, together with Dr. Ross, Mr. Swasey and his associates. Mr. Dunn and others especially qualified to take part. Appreciative thanks are also due to Sir Charles Parsons, the Carl Zeiss Optical company, and many instrument makers and men of science in Europe who have given valuable suggestions thru our representatives abroad, Dr. St. John and Dr. King."

Fake Check Worker Is Active Here

Five Property Owners Are Known to Have Been Victimized

Several property owners in Sierra Madre were victimized last week by a stranger who pretended to be looking for a house to rent. He paid the rent in advance with a check which turned out to be no good. Of course the check was made out for a sum larger than the amount of one month's rent for which he received change in cash.

F. G. Arnold was the name used by the plausible stranger. He told a story of a wife who was expected to arrive the first of this week and he wanted to have everything in readiness. When he offered his check and the property owner was unable to give him the change at once, he said that would be alright. They could cash the check and he would return a day or two later for his change.

The checks were drawn on a Long Beach branch of the Pacific Southwest Bank. He took care to come back for his change before there was time for the Sierra Madre bank to get returns on the checks. All were returned with the notation, "Signature does not correspond with sample on file."

The checks were evidently forged. Presumably the swindler took the precaution to learn the name of some depositor in the Long Beach bank so that telephone inquiries would be answered with the statement that F. G. Arnold had on account there.

It is not believed the sharper collected more than $10 or $15 for his two days' operations with five different people.

ATWATER KENT RADIO

There's no argument here!

YOU HEAR a lot of talk about radio claims and counterclaims... arguments without end. Meanwhile most people are buying Atwater Kent 1929 all-electric sensibly priced radio.

You just can't argue about a set like this. You can't argue about power or range or selectivity when the FULL-VISION Dial brings in station after station so quickly and clearly. There's nothing more to be said about simplicity and economy, when you merely plug the cord of Model 40 into a convenient light socket for unfailing electric current at a fraction of a cent an hour.

And as for dependability, Atwater Kent radio doesn't argue, it just works, and keeps on working year after year, as almost 2,000,000 owners know.

But let's settle the argument with a home demonstration. Then you'll know. Drop in or phone today.
